our story

There are many different reasons for hosting an event: rewarding employees, improving moral, introducing new or reinforcing existing policies, strategic planning, marketing and lead generation, thanking clients for their business, launching a new product, networking... the list goes on.

But all with one very simple common objective: to motivate an audience to meet your company objectives. And how to you do that? Create emotions.

5 years ago, I set out with a fire in my belly and 20 odd years of experience under my belt with one clear mission: to curate and deliver outstanding events that evoke positive emotions in their audience.

I listen to my clients, and I work with them to help create just that.

some of our clients

I want to say a massive THANK YOU for all of your hard work and help with this event. Everything went smoothly with the transfers and Kristina was great onsite.

Once again thank you and I look forward to working with you in the future.

Paris from TTA

Mandy from Norad

Seeing everyone come together for the first time and mix like long-lost friends reminded me that it's only just the beginning. There's so much more to do, and these are the people to do it.

Huge thanks to Alan Greene and Lucy Brown and all the team for creating such an exceptional experience.
